Product description

Used gitter box directly available at Kruizinga.nl. This high quality steel mesh container is one of the most used/sold load carriers in the industry, especially in the steel industry due to its high load capacity and stackable capacity. This mesh container is ideal for small parts and very practical to use because of the 2 steel flaps at the front. Sturdy base on 4 steel legs suitable for forklift or pallet truck and accessible from all sides. The top has a raised edge for easy stacking of the mesh container and to prevent unexpected sliding.
